PUBLIC REPORT

—OF A—

POLICEMAN.

I have not enjoyed good health for several years past, yet have not allowed it to interfere with my labor. Every one belonging to the laboring class knows the inconvenience of being obliged to labor when the body, from debility, almost refuses to perform its daily task. I never was a believer in dosing with medicines; but having heard the VEGETINE spoken of so highly, was determined to try it, and shall never regret that determination. As a tonic (which every one needs at some time) it surpasses anything I ever heard of. It invigorates the whole system; it is a great cleanser and purifier of the blood. There are many of my acquaintances who have taken it, and all unite in praise of its satisfactory effect.

Especially among the aged class of people, it imparts to them the one thing most needful in old age—nights of calm, sweet repose, thereby strengthening the mind as well as the body. One aged lady, who has been suffering through life from scrofula, and has become blind from its effects, having tried many remedies with no favorable result, was induced by friends to try the VEGETINE. After taking a few bottles, she obtained such great relief that she expressed a wish for her sight, that she might be able to look upon the man who had sent for such a blessing.

Yours Respectfully,
O. P. A. HODGE, Police Officer, Station 6.

HEARTFELT PRAYER.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 22, 1861.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq:

Dear Sir—I should be wanting in gratitude, if I failed to acknowledge what the VEGETINE has done for me. I was attacked about eleven months since with Bronchitis, which settled into Consumption. I had night sweats and fever chills; was distressed for breath, and frequently spit blood; was all emaciated, very weak, and so low that my friends thought my case hopeless.

I was advised to make a trial of the VEGETINE, which, under the providence of God, has cured me. That he may bless the use of your medicine to others, as he has to me, and that his divine grace may attend you, is the heartfelt prayer of your admiring, humble servant,

BENJAMIN PETTINGILL.

P. S.—Mine is but one among the many cures your medicine has effected in this place. B. P.

MAKE IT PUBLIC.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 9, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir—I have heard from very many sources of the great success of VEGETINE in cases of Scrofula, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, Catarrh, and other diseases of kindred nature. I make no hesitation in saying that I know VEGETINE to be the most reliable remedy for Catarrh and General Debility.

My wife has been troubled with Catarrh for many years, and at times very badly. She has thoroughly tried every supposed remedy that we could hear of, and with all this she has for several years been gradually growing worse, and the discharge from the head was excessive and very offensive.

She was in this condition when she commenced to take VEGETINE; I could see that she was improving on the second bottle. She continued taking the VEGETINE until she had used from twelve to fifteen bottles. I am now happy in informing you and the public (if you choose to make it public) that she is entirely cured, and VEGETINE accomplished the cure after nothing else would. Hence I feel justified in saying that VEGETINE is the most reliable remedy, and would advise all suffering humanity to try it, for I believe it to be a good, honest, vegetable medicine, and I shall not hesitate to recommend it. I am, &c., respectfully, L. C. CARELL,
Store 451 Broadway.

VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cleanses and cures ulceration, cures constipation, and regulates the bowels.

Has Entirely Cured Me.

BOSTON, October, 1870.

MR. STEVENS:

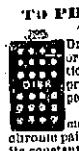

Dear sir—My daughter, after having a severe attack of whooping cough, was left in a feeble state of health. Being advised by a friend she tried the VEGETINE, and after using a few bottles was fully restored to health.

I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism. I have taken several bottles of the VEGETINE, for this complaint, and am happy to say it has entirely cured me. I have recommended the VEGETINE to others, with the same good results. It is a great cleanser and purifier of the blood; it is pleasant to take; and I can cheerfully recommend it.

TO PHYSICIANS AND INVALIDS.

The flexible, self-applying Electric Disks, Dr. Garratt's invention, make without care or trouble, "gentle and prolonged applications" of very fine primary currents. They prove sufficiently active and durable for this peculiar method.

While worn by night or day for cold rheumatic neuralgia, lameness, weakness, or chronic pains, the disk is sure to generate and apply its constant multipolar electric action. Each metal side an element and pole. They are wired avelanche for deep polar inworking. As shown by the expert judges, and in practice, these disks excel all other attempts at this sort of appliance. Nothing like them.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

OUR SILENT PRESIDENT

BEGINS TO TALK FREELY ON SOUTHERN AFFAIRS.

The Disputed States.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.

A Washington special to the Herald has the following: The president in an interview alluded to Southern affairs at length. For ten days he had received no letters or telegrams from the contested states, a fact which he looked upon as of the utmost importance as showing a satisfactory state of affairs. He was, however, fully advised of matters in those states, by persons who had just returned from them.

In regard to South Carolina he said, the return of republican electors seemed to be conceded on all hands. With regard to Edgefield county the facts elicited justified the returning board in throwing it out, particularly as the face of the returns showed as there was in the county.

With regard to Florida, the original face of the returns show a majority of 52 for Hayes and Wheeler. A mistake was promptly corrected which gave Tilden 138 majority. The throwing out of a county where there had been no legal measures taken for an election left a majority of 100 for Hayes and Wheeler. With regard to Louisiana there never had been a fair election since 1860. The action of the returning board was final, and there was no appeal from its decision.

NOT A FAIR ELECTION SOUTH.

Speaking generally, he said that with the exception of Delaware, there was not a fair election in the south, in the sense that they understood fairness in New England. If there was a fair election Maryland would have returned three republican congressmen and Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas would have gone republican. He thought the democratic contestants in South Carolina and Louisiana would hold out until the presidential election was disposed of. If favorable to Tilden they would summarily dispose of their republican competitors, and if favorable to Hayes they would quietly settle down.

COUNTING THE ELECTORAL VOTE.

After a few further remarks about the situation in South Carolina and Louisiana, the President alluded to the anticipated trouble between the houses of Congress in counting the electoral vote, and gave it as his opinion that his successor would not be appointed before the 4th of March. In his opinion the president of the senate had power to open and count the electoral vote.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FIRE IN SYRACUSE.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 1.

A fire occurred this morning in the Remington House, formerly St. Charles Hotel. Building badly damaged by fire and water. Boarders all escaped. Losses—A. C. Hatter landlord, $8000, fully insured. Cook & Plant, druggists, $4000 to $5000, insured $4000: E. P. Howe & Co., book-sellers, $6500, insured $5000. Thomas W. Ourstan & Co., booksellers, $10 000 to 12,000, fully insured. A number of boarders in the hotel lose small amounts. The building, the property of the Syracuse University and College of Missions, was damaged about $10,000; insured.

SUNDRIES.

Josh Billings says: "We read that Esaw sold hiz birthrite for soup, and many wondered at hiz extravagance; but Esaw discovered early what many a man has discovered since—that it is hard to live on a pedigree!"

"Where was your religion before Luther?" said a zealous papist to the famous John Wilkes. "Where were your hands before you washed them?" was the prompt reply.

A little girl philosopher who is taking lessons on the piano, illustrates the rule of home government by saying, "Ma, she works the pedals, but pa, he makes most of the music."

Over a bridge in one of the country towns of England, is the following accurate notice: "No one vehicle drawn by more than one animal is allowed to cross this bridge in opposite directions at the same time."

"Jamie, why do you not be after the getting the life of you insured?" "An' why should I, my honey?" "Ah, indade, that after you are dead and gone, you may be sure of a comfortable subsistence to yourself and family."

Justice Willis of England was in the habit of interrupting counsel. A lawyer who was thus annoyed one day said to him: "Your lordship is even a greater man than your father. The chief baron used to understand me after I had done, but your lordship understands me before I begin."

"Ah, good morning, good morning, sir; glad to see you. You have an article on the political situation? That's right, sir, put it in the coal bucket. Good morning, sir; be careful as you go out, the stairway is very dark."—[Burlington Hawkeye.

"Pa," asked the youthful Miltiades of Mr. Spilkins, the other day, "was Homer a very brave man?" "Not especially, my son," replied the paternal Leander. "Why so?" "Because," said the youngster, "I often hear 'em talk about 'the land of the free and the Homer the brave,' you know."—[N. Y. Com. Adv.

A small-sized lawyer appearing as a witness in one of the courts was asked by a gigantic counsellor what his profession was, and replied that he was an attorney. "You an attorney!" said the other. "Why, I could put you in my pocket!" "Very likely you could," rejoined the little man, "and if you did you would have more law in your pocket than you have in your head.—[Exchange.

"What do we call money?" Well (adds a New York editor), by several or more names. Some describe it as "spondulix," some as "the stuff," some as "the sugar," some as "rhino," some as "spoons," some as "the ready," others as "brads." The French call it "argent"; the English, "the needful"; in Mexico, "cassling"; in the South it is "rocks"; in the East, "tin"; in the West, "rags"; in Canada it goes by the name of "spelter." Hereabouts it is short.

The Honolulu Gazette says the last heard from the abandoned vessels in the Arctic is a report brought by the first officer of the Rainbow that the Acors Barns was seen in the midst of the ice, with all sails set, as if endeavoring to force a passage out. There is no probability that any of these vessels will escape this season from their adamantine fetters, for, when the Norman left the Arctic Ocean, the ice had extended in an unbroken mass for more than a hundred miles to the southward of where the imprisoned ships were seen last.

The Rev. J. F. Gardner made the remarkable statement at a recent medical conference in England "that within one hundred yards of the Sailors' Home in Liverpool there were forty seven public houses, and the publicans actually strewed sawdust on the pavement in front of them, and sprinkled rum over it, so that the smell of the spirit might decoy sailors within their doors."

Thad. Steven's old law office is now a barber's shop. People get shaved just the same.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Will be found to possess those qualities necessary to the total eradication of all bilious attacks, prompt to start the secretions of the liver, and give a healthy tone to the entire system. Indeed, it is no ordinary discovery in medical science to have invented a remedy for these stubborn complaints, which develop all the results produce by a heretofore free use of calomel, a mineral justly dreaded by mankind, and acknowledged to be destructive in the extreme to the human system. That the properties of certain vegetables comprise all the virtues of calmelo without its injurious tendencies, is now an admitted fact, rendered indisputable by scientific researches; and those who use the Mandrake Pills will be fully satisfied that the best medicines are those provided by nature in the common herbs and roots of the fields.

These pills open the bowels and correct all bilious derangements without salivation or any of the injurious effects of calomel or other poisons. The secretion of bile is promoted by these pills, as will be seen by the altered color of the stools, and disappearing of the sallow complexion and cleansing of the tongue.

Ample directions for use accompany each box of pills.

Prepared only by J. H. Schenck & Son, at their principal office, corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price 25 cents per box. dec13-1m

THE ASTOR MEMORIAL

ELABORATE NATURE OF THE WORK.—PREPARING THE STONE FOR THE ATTAR AND REREDOS.

At the stone yard of Messrs. Ellin & Kitson 519 West Twenty-first street, is now lying cut and fitted the stone for the costly memorial to be raised in Trinity Church to the memory of the lamented William B. Astor. The altar and reredos will be set up after Easter, and will take six weeks to construct, it being intended to have it ready for Ascension Day. The estimate of the cost is $40,000.

On this masterpiece of sculpture, which, in point of gothic beauty will surpass the altar to be made in Italy for the Roman Catholic cathedral of this city (estimated to cost $56,000), there are fifteen skilled hands now employed. Each piece of the reredos (corruption of the words arriere dos) is cut and fitted with the utmost nicety, the heads of the figures and the floral parts of the work being chiseled with an accuracy only to be acquired by long practice under a maestro of the art.

The alter is approached by two steps of black marble procured from the coast of Maine. The altar itself is of pure white statuary marble, the slab of which is 10 feet inches long by 3 feet 4 inches wide, inlaid with five red marble crosses, to represent the wounds of our Redeemer, set upon Lisbon shafts ornamented with gold, with capitals (carved in lillies), midbands and moulded bases with elaborately carved panels, the centers filled with Mosaics, on the right side being the Agnus Dei, and on the left the Pelican. The centre panel has a richly jeweled cross with a beautifully cut cameo of the head of our Lord. On either side of this panel are two kneeling angels, the two end panels bearing the initials "I. H. S." The carving of the cornice will be ears of wheat and clusters of grapes, to represent the bread and wine of the Lord's supper.

The body, which is constructed of Caen stone, with Bay of Fundy red granite columns, forms an illustration of the earthly life of our Saviour. It is divided into three bays, separated by buttresses, having figures of the four doctors of the church under canopies, and flanked by the angels Gabriel and Michael. In the centre compartment, over the altar, is a representation of the institution of the Lord's supper, flanked by angels in elaborately canopied niches. Over the Lord's Supper is the instription, "Behold the Lamb of God," divided by bands of passion flowers. Above this is a larger cushed panel, containing the scene of the crucifixion and the three Marys grouped about the cross, above which, in two panels, is the Ascension and the Resurrection. On the right hand side are six of the apostles on pedestals in traceried niches under which are the three acts from the life of our Lord, viz., the Agony in the Garden, The Betrayal, and Christ Arraigned before Pilate, in white marble. On the left hand side are the other six of the apostles, with the three acts of our Lord—Washing the feet of the Disciples; The triumphal entry into Jerusalem, and Mary Magdalen anointing the feet of our Lord. Over the figures of the apostles is the inscription "To the glory of God, in memory of W. B. Astor this reredos was erected A. D. 1877."

The upper part of the reredos contains in the centre our Lord in His majesty in a rich vosica, supported by spandrils, with adoring angels; and over the buttress, on pedestals, is the church triumphant, represented by angels playing on musical instruments, the whole being capped by an enriched cross.

This work is sui generis the most elaborate in the United States, and places the art of sculpture in this city in a higher position than it occupied previous to the designing of the memorial, rendering our citizens independent of Europe for similar works.—[N. Y. Mail.

AGRICULTURAL.

WATERING STOCK IN WINTER.—Seeing that a winter drouth, the very worst sort, prevails in many parts of the country; it becomes necessary to consider whether to drive the stock to water at the big brooks or rivers, or to haul water to them at the barn. A writer in the Vermont Farmer says: I think the best way is to provide water at the barn for the milch cows, the calves and other animals that may be feeble or less able to stand the exposure and hardship of going to the brook, if not for all the stock, and am inclined to think it pays to haul it for all. Those animals that go to the brook should be sent along in squads, the smallest first, so that all will have an opportunity to drink. Those farmers who have an unfailing supply of running water for house and barns do not know what a luxury they possess. Without abundant, frequent and regular supply, the animals fall in thrift, and are liable to suffer an impairment of health. Sheep will do without water if they have access to clean snow.

THE BEST FOWL.—There is much difference of opinion as to which is the best fowl to keep. After trying several kinds, we have settled on the Light Brahmas, as best for us; these are good layers, good sitters, fair eating, very handsome, very tame and docile, cannot fly, and are too lazy to scratch in the garden.

WINTER EMPLOYMENT.

Farmers especially should lay out their plans and make the most of the opportunity which the long winter evenings afford for mental culture. Robert B. Thomas says, "A spur in the head is worth two in the heels. Head work is what we want on the farm. It is brain power that makes things move in this world, and keeps them on the track. Make and lay out the plans for the year. Map out the fields so as to know just where and when to put in the work. The great secret of luck on the farm is to do things at the right time and in the right way. A note-book in the pocket is a handy thing. Strict farm accounts, with each lot under its own head, tell a plain and true story. Jot down a new thought on the spot. It saves a heap of time.

Hire farm hands early. The best are sure to be snatched up first, and the best are the cheapest in the end, even if they cost a little more by the month. Keep barns and sheds clean, the tools under cover and all in their place. Stock ought to be kept clean and in pure air, not too cold. All animals should have good shelter in this cold weather. Any want of it will lead to loss of flesh and thrift.

It costs more to feed an animal that is exposed to cold and driving storms than one that is kept warm. Feed at the same hours each day. Let the food be in the best condition. A few roots once a day or so will add much to the thrift of most farm stock. For cows in milk it is an easy matter to cut the straw or corn stalks and the coarser qualities of hay, mix in a little bran or shorts in a covered box, and pour over hot water. Cattle should have easy access to good water twice every day. Manure may be hauled out and spread upon the land if not covered with snow. A good top dressing at this season protects the roots of the grass, and will do as much good as if put on in the spring.

Keep the cellar as clean as wax. Put on a good coat of lime wash. Fill the ice-house as early as possible, to cut a first quality of ice. It is time now to balance up accounts and see how the year's work foots up. It is easy to see from carefully kept accounts which have paid the best, and to take them for a guide for the future."

NEW YORK ITEMS.

The receiver of the Bonn-street Savings Bank is paying a dividend of fifty-five per cent., and hopes to pay twenty per cent. more in April.

Simon Waltzo, a German inventor, who has for ten years been trying to perfect a flying machine, hanged himself Saturday night.

Five thousand dollars worth of satin mohair serges and silk were stolen from Daily & Co., warehouse, corner of Broadway and Pearl street, Friday night.

David Dudley Field was nominated Saturday night by the Tammany Democratic Convention as candidate to fill the vacancy in the Seventh Congressional District, made vacant by the election of Smith Ely, Jr., to the mayoralty of New York city.

The estimates for expenses of the various municipal departments of this city have been finally fixed upon at a total of $30,984,269.48 for the year 1877. Of this $2,500,000 comes from the general fund, leaving $28,484,269.48 to be raised by taxation. The rate of taxation will be about $2.65 for 1877, against $2.80 for the present year.

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 18 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies, and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains more reading matter than any other paper in the southern part of the state.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, to carrier.

The Newport Journal, $2 per annum, or $1.50 if the whole year is paid for strictly in advance.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is the largest general printing office in the city. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1877.

THE DAY.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council will be held this evening.

The Grand Trunk Railway are finding new engineers and starting up some of their trains today.

A church spire was blown off in Bennington, Vt., on Friday last and several other buildings injured.

The new year is a frolicksome youth and seems inclined to blustering antics. It will get sobered down bye-and-bye.

The municipal debt of Fall River is $1,-542,032.61. The water debt is $1,583,326,-42, making a total of $3,127,127.06.

The school committee of New Bedford are investigating the condition of the school houses as to their safety in case of fire.

Farmers from Middletown and Portsmouth say that the snow drifts out in the country are not as deep as here in the city.

The people of New Orleans seem anxious for more Kellogg. They have just sued Miss Clara for $5000 damages for not appearing to sing as she had agreed to do.

There was a terrific gale on the south coast of England Sunday. Many towns were inundated, and the destruction of property was very large. In Dover and East Bourne alone the loss is estimated as high as 215,000 pounds.

Governor Nance of North Carolina delivered a message yesterday which breaths out threatenings and slaughter to his political foes. So far as we have heard nobody is frightened. On the other hand Gov. Kellogg of Louisiana is very pacific in his tone and peaceable in his intentions.

The storm has been very severe in all parts of the country and much damage has been done. Though our streets are badly blockaded with snow we hear of but little injury to property in this vicinity. The Boston morning train did not reach Newport until about half past one o'clock.

The year that has just closed had fifty three Sundays. Eleven such years occur during the century, viz: 1803, 1814, 1825, 2831, 1842, 1853, 1859, 1876, 1881, 1887, and 1898; and there have also been three leap-years with fifty-three Saturdays, namely, 1820, 1848 and 1876.

Lord Macaulay made it a rule to pay all bills within the twenty-four hours. "I think," he says, "that prompt payment is a moral duty; knowing as I do, how painful it is to have such things deferred." Lord Macaulay was a philosopher and his example is worthy of imitation.

Our thanks are due to Senator Burnside for a copy of the Congressional Directory, a document almost as important in a newspaper office as in Congress itself. It is compiled by Ben. Perley Poore, the well known correspondent and clerk of the printing records of congress.

Yesterday was a great day for inaugurals in Massachusetts. New city governments went into operation in nearly all the cities, and of late years mayors' inaugurals have become about as long as Presidents' messages. The Boston papers of last evening are filled with them.

Mr. P. B. Bliss the noted revivalist who has been laboring so successfully with Moody and Sankey, and in other parts of the country is among the killed at the great railroad slaughter. Mr. Moody stated the case in his meeting yesterday and raised $10,000 for the benefit of the fatherless children of his friend. Mrs. Bliss was also killed.

Our townsmen Rev. C. T. Brooks has probably written more New Year's addresses for the use of carrier boys than any other living poet. He has done this work for the News' carriers for many years, and also for other papers in this and other cities. And what is better still these addresses are always appropriate and worthy of the occasion.

The Fall River water works have proved thus far highly satisfactory. It appears from Mayor Davenport's annual address that the cost to date is $1,600,000.—The water rates bring in $49,000; the amount of water pumped up for the year was 400,000,000 gallons. There have been laid 1,687 service pipes; and 388 meters, six drinking fountains, 11 watering troughs and 28 water posts established besides 471 hydrants. The tenements supplied number 4,633, stores, &c., 488, mills 35, engine houses 9, schoolhouses 20. Nearly four and a half miles of sewers have been put down, with 175 manholes and 27 sand basins, since the beginning of work last spring. The contract system proved a failure, and the work has been done under the authority of the city.

New Year's, as a holiday, is not yet popularized in New England. Several families in this city kept open house yesterday, after the style of New York, but the response was slight. His honor, Mayor Bedlow, received during the day, and furnished an elegant entertainment but the number present was not large. The same results appeared in Boston and other cities where the innovation was attempted. It will come however, and we shall yet be in accord "with all the world and the rest of mankind."

Mayor Doyle delivered his eleventh inaugural address in Providence yesterday. It is an interesting document, and presents the affairs of the city in a clear and satisfactory manner. The total debt Sept. 30 last was $9,634,996, an increase in 1876 of $816,950. The sinking fund shows an increase of $174,938 83. The receipts for the year, $5,620,159 10. The expenditures, $5,149,-146. There is a decrease in the valuation of the city of $889,500. The mayor makes many suggestions of importance, and the city council will find plenty of business in discussing and acting upon them.

A large number o .Boston ladies under the lead of Mrs. Gov. Claflin have united in organizing a society for the promotion of the higher education of women. Monthly parlor meetings are to be held in its interests, with addresses, essays, foreign correspondence, discussions, etc. Not only will needy students in the Boston University be aided by current loans and gifts, but perpetual scholarships, fellowships, traveling fellowships, and fellowships for original research, will be founded, with a view to giving to young women advantages in no respect inferior to those provided for young men. Incorporation will be asked under the title, "Boston University Woman's Education Society." It is the first organization of the kind and the proposition already meets with much favor.

A Washington correspondent writes that the last card which the democrats will play in the presidential game will be an attempt to reject the three electoral votes of Colorado. The senate, without a word of objection, admitted Senators Chaffee and Teller, but when Representative Belford presented his credentials in the house they were referred to the committee on the judiciary. Judge Lynde of Wisconsin has been directed by the majority of this committee to make a report in favor of Mr. Belford's admission, but the minority of the committee, headed by a young lawyer named Hurd (who will be replaced in the next congress by ex-Secretary Cox), will present a report against Mr. Belford's admission, which has been revised and corrected at the New York headquarters. It takes the ground that the enabling act for the admission of Colorado was unconstitutional and is not binding, as it delegated powers to the executive which belong exclusively to congress. Many democrats denounce this attempt to keep Colorado out in the cold.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

The political excitement is dying out. Quiet begins to reign all along the line. The madcap politicians have heard from the people who do not propose to be "bull dozed" into outbreaks or intimidated and driven from the maintenance of the right. The people want justice done and intend to have it. They do not care half so much whether Hayes or Tilden is elected president as they do to have the laws observed and the forms and spirit of the constitution enforced. In the confusion created by contradictory reports and the operations of graceless political tricksters, it is impossible to tell who has been chosen our chief magistrate for the next four years. But the people know that the constitution provides a way for determining the question and they will wait with patience for the decision. When it is reached they will be ready and willing to abide by the result. Sensible people do not propose to ascertain the facts of the case from the heated partisan newspaper writers, but from the decision of those who are charged by the constitution and laws to hear and decide. In due time that decision will be reached, the excitement will pass away and the nation continue to enjoy prosperity as heretofore.

THE MOON AND THE TIDES.—As the moon revolves around the earth from west to east, says Prof. Randolph, she advances eastwardly in her orbit about 13 degrees in every 24 hours. Hence, when any part of the earth in its revolution comes under a part of the heavens where the moon was the evening before, the moon is not there, but has gone eastward 13 degrees, and, therefore, the earth must turn on its axis as much longer as is necessary to bring that part again under the moon, which requires generally, not always, about 50 minutes. The same thing occurs, the next evening and the evening after, and thus the moon rises most of the year about 50 minutes later each day. Now, as the tides are produced mainly by the moon, it will at once be seen from this eastward movement and the later rising each day why they must occur about 50 minutes later each succeeding day. While the lunar tide is thus daily lagging, the solar tide occurs at the same time. Hence these two tides always begin to separate after new moon, being further apart each day, until they again coincide at full moon, when there is, as already stated, a higher tide than usual, called spring tide. Then again they separate, until new moon occurs, when they once more unite, producing another spring tide. It must not be supposed that the whole body of the ocean to its profoundest depths is equally moved by the tides. The tides are mainly superficial, and except where the water is of moderate depth, the lowest parts are only slightly disturbed, but to what depth the tidal current extends can never, perhaps, be satisfactorily determined.

The swamps in Louisiana are said to be dryer than they have been for thirty-five years. A man may ride on horseback, or a wagon may be driven through tracts of country heretofore impassible within the memory of man.

It is said that Cardinal McCloskey's health has grown steadily worse ever since his accession to the highest position in the American Catholic Church. His illness, according to the physicians, is peculiar. The publicity attending his high position in in every way against his instincts, and the responsibilities attending his duties as cardinal bear heavily upon him. At his age the burden wears very heavily.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The storm signal was ordered up yesterday afternoon.

—The newsboys were well received yesterday, as usual.

—The steamer Old Colony left here on time last night. The Newport has not yet arrived.

—Some evil-minded persons have poisoned two valuable hogs, the property of Mr. Perry Sherman.

—There was an unusually heavy tide this morning and many of the wharves were covered with water.

—Horatio Brown of this city shot and killed, near the Dumplings yesterday, a seal weighing eighty pounds.

—During the gale last night the wharves of Messrs. Auchincloss and Young on the Point were washed away.

—Among the earliest persons to brave the storm this morning, was a woman who came in from the island in a sleigh.

—W. M. Farrow has opened a shooting gallery in the former quarters of the Burnside Guards in the Opera House building.

—Nathaniel Thayer, Jr., of Boston, and Samuel J. Colgate of New York, manufacturer of the well known soap, are in town.

—The schooner David Carll which arrived in distress Saturday, has made temporary repairs and will leave the first favorable opportunity.

—The schooner Lottie Burns, from Boston for Virginia, which arrived yesterday morning, was off Barnegat and the gale of Friday night drove her to sea.

—There was an interesting shooting match last evening at Farrow's for a ten pound turkey. It was won by Robert S. Barker, who had it forwarded to the Children's Home.

—The train for Boston left here as usual this morning but was obliged to return on account of the heavy snow. It finally started about nine o'clock with three engines and there is no doubt but that it will get through.

—The Sunday school of the Thames-street M. E. Church on Sunday presented W. H. Crandall, the superintendent, with an unabridged dictionary, as a token of esteem. He also received from one of the classes a handsome picture in a neat frame.

—The brig Walter Smith, Capt. Thomas S. Digley of this port, arrived at New York on Sunday from Montevideo, which port he left November 6th. He crossed the equator November 30th in longitude 39° 15' and was kept, owing to strong easterly gales, ten days north of Hatteras. The vessel and cargo are all right.

DOGS.—At a meeting of the county commissioners in Taunton on Saturday, seventy five bills, amounting to $1,170.60, were presented for damages by dogs to domestic animals, including horses, sheep, cows, dogs, and fowls. Bills for killing dogs were also presented, amounting to $13.

The amount received the past year by the county treasurer for dog licenses was $9,511.80.

STOCK SALES.—In Boston, on Saturday, Old Colony railroad stock sold at $103.50 per share, Boston & Albany at $127.75, Boston Water Power Co. at $4.75, McKay Sewing Machine at $35, Chicago city sevens of 1899 at 106¾ per cent, Cook county (Ill.) sevens of 1880 at 104½, Old Colony railroad sixes of 1895 at 105½, Boston & Maine sevens at 110½.

FESTIVITIES AT THE TORPEDO STATION.—The employes at the torpedo station had a new year's tree in the machine shop on the island yesterday afternoon. One of the main rooms was gaily decorated with flags and oil paintings loaned for the occasion by Mr. Bane of the station. The employes generally exchanged presents and the children were well provided for. After unloading the tree refreshments were served in an adjoining room. The occasion was a most enjoyable one. Credit is due to Capt. and Mrs. Breeze, Surgeon and Mrs. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burdett and to Prof. Farmer and daughter who aided materially in making the affair a success.

NEW BEDFORD.

The Standard says the fears expressed that Mrs. Henry M. Knowles and daughter had lost their lives by the railroad accident at Ashtabula, Ohio, were confirmed by a dispatch received last evening, stating that Mr. Knowles was safe and well, but Mrs. Knowles and daughter Nannie were among the victims of that terrible disaster.

The mayor, members of the board of aldermen and reporters found a package of candy on each of their desks at the meeting Saturday evening, evidently placed there by some person who had no intention of subsidizing them.

UNDERGROUND PHOTOGRAPHY.

We have to record a novel and interesting application of this most useful art (photography). A few days ago, we believe for the first time, an experiment was successfully made for the purpose of obtaining an accurate picture of some underground workings in a coal mine, the process being effected by means of the oxyhydrogen light, generally known as the lime light, in combination with magnesium riband in combustion.

The scene of the experiment was the Bradford Colliery, Bentley, near Walsall, where a few days ago Mr. Frederick Brown, of Walsall, accompanied by Mr. Chidley, representing the firm of Messrs. Duignan & Co., solicitors of that town, attended at the mine for the purpose of obtaining representations of certain portions of the underground workings to illustrate a question of practical mining which is incidental to a litigation respecting that colliery, and having made some preliminary experiments with magnesium light, came to the conclusion that photography is perfectly possible under conditions which exclude sunlight altogether.

Upon the following day Mr. Brown, attended by one of the proprietors of the mine and the deputies, successfully obtained pictures of the portions of the mine indicated by Mr. Chidley. The photographs, as finished, are not only in themselves valuable for the purposes of evidence for which they were required, but when viewed in the stereoscope form perfectly accurate delineations of the places from which they were taken, and, indeed, without an explanation that they had been taken altogether by artificial light, the ordinary observer would suppose them to have been produced by the action of the sun in the ordinary way. The process occupied for each picture from twenty five minutes to half an hour, while the sensitive plate was under the action of the light.—[Birmingham Post.

A STRANGE REVELATION.

The Sacramento (Cal.) Union gives the sequel of a terrible affair which occurred in that city in July, 1860. One William Wells, a convict, who had served out a term of larceny, having no home, was kindly allowed shelter in the house of an old German named Wetzel. He requited the kindness of his host by killing him and escaping to Nevada with the money and valuables for which he committed the murder. He was pursued and captured, and placed in charge of a mountaineer named George Armstrong, who started with him over the mountains for Sacramento. When the stage arrived at Nicholaus, ten miles from Sacramento, (this was before the railroad was commenced), a report was received from that city that a mob on the upper bridge was waiting to hang Wells as soon as he arrived. There was no truth in the story, but Armstrong was alarmed, and hired a wagon and a driver, whose name was Stoddard, and also engaged the services of Deputy Sheriff Wharton. They took the lower road, which was near the river, and arrived within three-fourths of a mile of the Sacramento station house at about 10.30 P. M. Stoddard was driving and Wharton was at his side. Armstrong, worn out with loss of sleep, was sleeping soundly in the bottom of the wagon, and the prisoner, handcuffed, lay beside him. Suddenly the desperate ruffian released one hand, seized the revolver from Armstrong and shot Wharton, Stoddard and Armstrong. The two latter were instantly killed, but Wharton, though mortally wounded, fired at the villain, who made his escape, though Wharton was confident that he hit him. Wharton then crawled to the station house, told his story, and died soon after.

The town was soon alarmed, and the police and a large body of citizens scoured the country around on foot and on horseback, but there was no trace of the quadruple murderer. Some thought that he was drowned while trying to swim the river, others that he died of his wound in some obscure place, while many believed he had escaped safely to some other state or country. From time to time for years men were arrested and brought to Sacramento on the supposition they were the criminal. One of these was a man who claimed to be named McDonald, though several witnesses positively identified him as the escaped murderer. He was, however, released and allowed to return to Idaho.

And now comes the development. Trustworthy information has recently been received that on the night of the murder Wells, who was shot in the hip, sought the residence of James Knaggs, a sacramento police officer, in the heart of the city; that Knaggs, who had arranged the murder and robbery of Wetzel with Wells, sheltered the fugitive and then joined in the hue and cry of the people in the pursuit, and afterward took Wells in a wagon just out of the city, and then, with the aid of a companion, murdered the fellow and buried him, for fear that he would be captured and expose Knaggs. The revelation comes from the survivor of the three, who is safe from arrest. Knaggs had obtained a great reputation as a thief taker and as a detective generally. He succeeded in getting one Simonds, an undoubted robber and murderer, hung, and then took his wife for a mistress. He took to drinking and the woman after a time left him. He followed and killed her and then killed himself. The mystery of the disappearance of Wells, the murderer, which has so long puzzled the people of that region, is at last unravelled.

THE PILGRIMS.

[On the 22nd of December last, the New England Society at Ann Arbor, Michigan, celebrated the Plymouth Landing. Among the exercises the following poem was read:]

"Westward the course of Empire takes its way."—
Had Berkeley but in vision seen the day,
How would his heart have leaped, to greet from far,
O'er these then Western wilds, the Empire star
Of Science pouring down its kindling beam;
Not like an evening star, whose beauteous gleam
Points onward to the track of sinking day,
Then yields itself to night's encroaching sway—
But like a day-star rising in the West,
(For Nature's laws must bow to mind's behest)
And calling, with its strange and startling light,
The wise men of the East to hail the sight,
And travel hither from the farthest shore
To bring their richest gifts and make them more.

Westward, this morn, our greetings take their way
To Michigan from rock-bound Aquidaw,
Mianthonomo's hill and the sweet slope,
King Philip's favorite refuge, fair Mount Hope,
The Hanging Rocks, whence Berkeley loved to trace,
The beauteous lineaments of nature's face;
The beach whose sands the youthful Channing trod,
And in the tempest felt the peace of God;
The light serene on sea and shore and skies,
That woke the glowing soul in Allston's eyes;—
Three lines of grace, these charms of form and hue,
Forever old, and yet forever new,
Reveal and veil God's face, as when of yore
Pilgrims and Indians walked this lovely shore.
Still doth the old eternal mystery brood
O'er rocky flestne and on roaring flood;
And well it may, when even our "Old Stone Mill,"
That strange old settler, keeps its secret still.
When on that memorable winter day
The Pilgrim "record their bark" in Plymouth Bay.
E'en then, did this old relic crown the hill?
We can but ask and guess, and ask and guess still!—
But yet I call the poet's words to mind:
"Still let us question—still no answer find."
Half seen, in musing hours, how many ghosts,
In varying shape and costume, walk those coasts!
They all were pilgrims; shadow-like they passed;
They "sought a country"—happy found at last!

Sons of the Pilgrims! scattered far around
Our land, from Quoddy Bay to Puget's Sound,
Nay, who remember this historic day,
Across the oath from shore of far Cathay,
Today, where'er ye rest, where'er ye roam,
A greeting seeks you from the ancient home!
And chiefly you, who seek the fount of youth,
Aspirations to the eternal shrine of Truth!
Reverent and free explorers, onward press
Through Error's dark and tangled wilderness;
Still further onward set your Bright camp fires,
Approved the worthy sons of worthy sires.

GREAT BRITAIN.

TERRIFIC GALE ON THE COAST.

Many Towns Inundated.

LONDON, Jan. 2.

A gale of unprecedented violence prevailed on the south coast of England yesterday. Dover pier was partially destroyed. The damage is estimated at £150,000. At East Bourne there was great destruction, and the loss foots up £65,000.

Nearly every town on the south coast from Dover to Portsmouth was partially inundated by the high tide. Furniture was washed out of houses. The floods caused by the heavy rains continue to be reported throughout the country, and damage done is widespread.

RUSSIA'S PATIENCE ALMOST EXHAUSTED.

The Conference Proceedings.

LONDON, Jan. 2.

A telegram from Constantinople reports that at Saturday's sitting of the conference, after the Turks announced that their counter proposals were not ready, Count Chaudordy, the French plenipotentiary, addressed the Conference, pointing out that the propositions of the European representatives contained nothing contrary to the integrity of the Ottoman empire.

General Ignatieff declared that Russia had made every concession in order to arrive at an understanding. It was Turkey's interest to accept the proposals of the powers. Lord Salisbury and the Austrian and Italian representatives expressed the approval of these statements. The hopes of a peaceful solution continue. The plenipotentiary appears disposed to make concessions in matters of detail.

A great deal of trash, intended for fun, finds a place in the writings of cheap scribblers, at the expense of Gen. Burnside. His bald head and "Burnside's whiskers" are the favorite points of attack for pointless efforts at wit. The men who fought under his leadership in the war and those who faced his forces on the field see nothing in the man or his record that is very funny. The emperor of Germany saw nothing to laugh at in the American general whom he took into his confidence and councils during the Franco-Prussian war, and whom he made his confidential messenger to France. It is true, the stalwart and modest soldier of two wars does not bore the senate with stupid speeches, nor does he make any efforts to spread-eagle oratory. But he is a hard worker, and, when he does say anything, it is to the point. He may be trusted to do his own thinking in the present crisis, and to act for the best.—[Detroit Evening Press.

Judge Stanley Matthews (Rep.) has already given Gen. Banning notice that he will contest the seat accorded him in the next House from Cincinnati. Banning was elected by a nominal majority of 65; but there is ample evidence that several hundreds of Banning's votes were fraudulent. A dozen or more of Banning's strongest supporters are on their way to the penitentiary for illegal voting, and others have fled the city.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

READ AND LEARN FOR YOURSELF.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense making them known to the people. This is not the case with BOCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Although but a few years introduced into this country its sale now reaches every town and village in the United States. Its wonderful success in curing consumption, severe coughs, asthma, and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 400,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist James H. Taylor and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

THE SUPERIORITY OF THE

REMINGTON

Sewing Machine

Is acknowledged by competent judges in the following particulars:

1. It is constructed on the soundest mechanical principles.
2. It is made with the best material by the best workmen.
3. Its wearing surface is more evenly distributed than that of other shuttle machines.
4. It has no harsh jarring motions.
5. It runs much lighter, stiller, and with less wear than other shuttle machines.
6. There is less wear on the needle bar and cam than in other machines.
7. Less motion is given to the shaft, carrying the needle bar and feed than in other machines.
8. The feed is positive, silent and automatic.
9. The length of the stitch is more easily regulated.
10. The needle is more easily threaded. There are no holes for the thread to pass through, but the eye of the needle.
11. There is no wear or strain on the thread to set it firmly in the cloth.
12. It has no objectional levers, no heavy rotary cams, no noisy cog wheels, which are always gumming or breaking.
13. It is so constructed that it can run twice the speed, do double the work and last twice as long a other shuttle machines.

NOTICE.

I WOULD HEREBY inform the public that I have sold out my grocery and grain business on Broadway to John H. Peckham and Sidney W. Anthony, who will take possession of the same on the first day of January, 1877. I would extend my hearty thanks to the many kind friends who have given me their patronage in the past and hope that they will continue the same to my successors. All parties indebted to me will find their bills ready for payment on the first day of January, and I hope that the same will be promptly attended to. All parties having bills against me will please present them immediately for settlement.

dec26 JOSHUA PECKHAM.

PECKHAM & ANTHONY,

(SUCCESSORS TO JOSHUA PECKHAM,)

The undersigned having purchased the good-will and stock in trade of JOSHUA PECKHAM, at

111 & 116 BROADWAY,

Purpose to engage in the grocery and grain business on and after January 1st, 1877, under the firm name of Peckham & Anthony.

☞ We respectfully solicit a share of the public patronage. JOHN H. PECKHAM, dec26 SIDNEY W. ANTHONY.

January Bills-1877.

Within the first week of the month all bills due the undersigned will be presented for payment. These bills are all due, some are much over due. All should be paid in the early part of the month. Most fortunately for the undersigned, many of these bills will reach people of such exalted integrity that immediately upon receiving them they will take measures for their payment. It is of much importance to him that payment should be promptly made, and great hopes are entertained that the honorable example of the above named class will so pervade the community that a contemplated list of those unworthy of credit will contain but few names.

E. W. LAWTON.

THE EDITOR.

The editor who wills to please,
Must humbly crawl upon his knees,
And kiss the hand that beats him;
Or if he dare attempt to walk,
Must toe the mark that others chalk,
And cringe to all that meet him.

Says one, your subjects are too grave—
Too much morality you have—
Too much about religion;
Give me some witch or wizard tales,
With slip-shod ghosts, with rips and scales,
Or feathers like a pigeon.

I love to read, another cries,
Those monstrous fashionable lies—
In other words, those novels,
Composed of kings and queens and lords,
Of border wars and double hordes,
That used to live in hovels.

No—no, cried one, we've had enough
Of such confounded lovesick stuff,
To craze the fair creation;
Give us some recent foreign news,
Of Russians, Turks—the Greeks and Jews,
Or any other nation.

The man of drilled scholastic lore,
Would like to see a little more,
In scraps of Greek or Latin;
The merchants rather have the price
Of southern indigo and rice,
Or India silk or satin.

Another cries, I want more fun,
A witty anecdote or pun,
A rebus or a riddle;
Some long for missionary news,
And some—of worldly, carnal views—
Would rather hear a fiddle.

The critic, too, of classic skill,
Must dip in gall his gander quill,
And scrawl 'gainst the paper;
Of all the literary foe s
Bred in our colleges and schools,
He cuts the silliest caper.

And her cries, I want to see
A jumbled up variety—
Variety in all things;
A miscellaneous, hodge-podge print
Composed—I only give the hint—
Of multifarious small things.

I want some marriage news, says miss,
It constitute my highest bliss,
To hear of weddings plenty;
For in a time of general rain
None suffer from a drought, 'tis plain—
At least not one in twenty.

I want to hear of deaths, says one—
Of people totally undone,
By losses, fire or fever;
Another answers, full as wise,
I'd rather have the fall and rise
Of raccoon skins and beaver.

Some signify a secret wish
For now and then a savory dish
Of politics to suit them;
But here we rest at perfect ease,
For though they swear the moon was cheese
We never should dispute them.

Or grave or humorous, wild or lame,
Lofty or low, 'tis all the same,
Too haughty or too humble;
And every editorial wight
Has sought to do but what is right,
And le the grumblers grumble

Miscellaneous.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience. AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for
"Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"
Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

Sold by druggists throughout the world. aug17-6m

WINTER OF

1876 AND 1877.

For sale cheap, as I want to reduce stock.

I HAVE ON HAND and want to sell the following vehicles:

1 extra nice new Two Seated Sleigh made at Albany, lined with crimson plush, with both pole and shafts, just the sleigh to make a Christmas present, and be remembered at every snow storm. 2 second hand Two Seated Sleighs, with pole only. 1 Single Sleigh, second hand. 1 second hand Coupe Carryall in good order and just painted, good serviceable storm carriage and cheap. 1 Brownell Carryall. 1 C Spring Top Phaeton Buggy. 1 Brewster Top Buggy. 2 Phaeton Top Buggy. 1 Open Buggy. 1 Two Seated Open Wagon. 4 Express Wagons. 1 nice Dog Cart with reversible seat, pole and shafts, just the carriage to drive 4-in-hand to. 1 very nice new Box Top Buggy. 1 very nice new Basket Top Phaeton, will sell a great deal lower now than in the Spring—makes a good close buggy, or a nice summer carriage. 3 second hand Beach Wagons, cheap. 1 second hand Landau, cheap. 3 Barouches in good order and newly painted. 1 Victoria with pole and shafts, cheap if sold now. 1 Covered Wagon, will carry 8 people easy. 1 new Express Wagon, cheap as we are giving up selling express wagons. 1 new Road Wagon, just the thing for business or pleasure. 1 Sargent Top Phaeton Buggy, been used but little. 1 Phaeton Top Buggy, one year's use and that with care. 1 second hand Light Dog Cart with shafts. 1 second hand Drag with seat behind, just the thing for 6 horse team, newly painted and in good order, and several other carriages all of which I shall be glad to sell for cash or paper that will be paid at maturity.

I would say that through the kindness of my friends, I have disposed of about 100 different vehicles the past few years having sold carriages to go to Providence, R. I., Stonington, Ct., Little Rock, Arkansas, Middletown, Portsmouth, Tiverton, Fall River, New Hampshire and various other places, all of which have proved as represented. To those having any House Painting, Graining or any other work, that they want done and are willing to pay a fair price to have the same done in a good and substantial manner, I shall be glad to give estimates, and will warrant all work done by me to be in every respect as represented. I return my thanks for the generous patronage which has been bestowed in the past and asked a continuance in the future. To my very numerous friends who have neglected to settle their bills for work done long ago,—if they will now respond by attending to them at once they will confer a great favor, as money is now very useful.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: you procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly,
GEORGE DRAPER.

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

THE ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best instruments and instruments and aim to present not merely patches of landscapes from points chosen at random as is the case with many others, but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new cabinet size views taken this present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the stereoscope.

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home memento of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.

Interiors and exteriors of houses taken to order Also parties, horses, &c.

BUT WHO DO NOT TAKE A DAILY FROM THIS CITY.

Let the JOURNAL be compared with any other weekly paper published in the south part of the state and its superiority in the quantity and quality of its contents, particularly in its news departments, will be at once seen. In it are found every week all the minor matters of local news and reports of entertainments, meetings, celebrations, etc., in Newport and vicinity that in fullness and excellence will compare favorably with reports in Boston and other city papers.

We state not so much an opinion as a fact, that will become apparent to any disinterested person who compares it with other papers, when we say that, for all residents of Newport county and all persons who have moved out of the county but wish to keep posted regarding affairs at their old home the best paper without exception
